

Logo by Terry Dolson

Richmond Writing Across the Curriculum Newsletter

Issue 19, April 2008

Announcements & Notes

By Joe Essid
Writing Center Director

Lee Carleton
Assistant Writing Center Director

Marie Boylan
Administrative Coordinator

Daniel Coudriet
Newsletter Editor

<http://writing.richmond.edu>

Congratulations!

Liz Hartley has been named Writing Fellow of the Year and Molly Bechert Tutor of the Year. Both Liz and Molly were nominated by faculty members. Congratulations!

And thank you to all our graduating seniors for a job very well done.

Without your help, we'd not have a writing program on campus. Good luck "beyond the bubble" next year.

Update on Events at the Center

The Writing Center has been open since January 28 and will close for the spring semester on Sunday April 27. As of April 23, the total number of tutor appointments for the semester reached 356. During the last two weeks of April reservations doubled from previous weeks.

On-call Tutors, Exam Week and May Term

During exam week we have on-call tutors available. Please contact them directly:

Bill Cable
bill.cable@richmond.edu
Beth Jones
beth.jones@richmond.edu
Amanda Rosenthal
amanda.rosenthal@richmond.edu

During May term Emily Smith and Bill Cable will be on-call. Please contact them at emily.smith@richmond.edu and bill.cable@richmond.edu

On-call Tutor Request, Summer

We may need on-call help this summer. Please contact Marie Boylan (mboylan@richmond.edu) with your availability to tutor in the summer terms.

Going Abroad?

If you are going abroad in the upcoming academic year, note that we'll keep you on our list for emails, including our newsletter. We welcome any dispatches from overseas about writing in the nations you visit.

Call for Submissions for Future Newsletters

We would like to begin using this space as a forum for sharing and reflecting upon the process of helping peers with writing. Please send any writings that could fall under this theme to Daniel Coudriet (dcoudrie@richmond.edu). We plan to include these stories/accounts in future issues, hoping to foster further dialogue.

Writing Center Sunday Tutoring

The Writing Center's experiment with offering tutoring on Sunday evenings in the Library has proven to be a success and will continue to be offered during the 2008-2009 academic year.

Special Announcement for 103 Faculty

Remember to contact Joe Essid (jessid@richmond.edu) if you do not yet have a copy of the latest edition of Writing Analytically. This will be our standard rhetoric text next year; the choice of a reader or selection of readings online is your own.

All Faculty & Student-Employees

We need your preferences! If you have not yet filled out a preference form for your fall 2008 assignment, please visit:

<http://writing2.richmond.edu/wac/studentpref.html> (students)

<http://writing2.richmond.edu/wac/facultypref.html> (faculty)

Have a photo, announcement, or idea for our next newsletter?

Please contact Joe Essid at jessid@richmond.edu or Daniel Coudriet at dcoudrie@richmond.edu

Thanks for supporting Writing at Richmond!

<http://writing.richmond.edu>